

The quantity and course of acupuncture treatments is dependent upon the particular condition being treated, the length of time you have had the condition and the severity of the condition. You can expect to have a minimum course of 6-8 weekly acupuncture treatments during which you are encouraged to be active in asking questions about your progress. For a fluid unfolding of your healing process, you are encouraged to abide by any recommended lifestyle changes or implementations.