

Some insurance companies cover acupuncture. You will need to contact your insurance company for this information as plans differ regarding which ailments and treatment methods will be covered. You may also be able to receive coverage when your MD provides a prescription for acupuncture treatments.